3D Systems Showcased Latest Solutions at Tokyo DMS Exhibition

- V-Flash[®] Personal & ProJet[™] Professional 3D Printers Anchored Event -

ROCK HILL, South Carolina, July 6, 2010 – 3D Systems (NASDAQ: TDSC), announced today that it collaborated with its Japanese affiliates to deliver a successful exhibit showcasing its latest personal and professional 3D printers at the 21st annual DMS show, in Tokyo, Japan.

Recognized for its Additive Manufacturing leadership 3D Systems and its Japanese affiliates iGUAZU and INCS exhibited their state-of-the-art, 3D printer portfolio including its most affordable [V-Flash[®]](#) Personal 3D printer and its best selling [ProJet[™]](#) Professional 3D printer series. Fully functional prototypes and real working models printed on its array of 3D printers enhanced an already powerful display of solutions that attracted substantial visitor traffic.

“We were pleased to collaborate with iGUAZU and INCS in this important business development opportunity. Working together we will insure that our Japanese customers harness the full benefit of our entire design to manufacturing solutions portfolio,” said Cathy Lewis, vice president of global marketing for 3D Systems.

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements made in this release that are not statements of historical or current facts are forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements may involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the company to be materially different from historical results or from any future results expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. In addition to statements that explicitly describe such risks and uncertainties, readers are urged to consider statements in the conditional or future tenses or that includes terms such as "believes," "belief," "expects," "estimates," "intends," "anticipates" or "plans" to be uncertain and forward-looking.
